This Prospectus has been prepared in accordance with the Prospectus Regulation (Parts 2 (Summary) and 3 (Risk Factors)) and in accordance with Annexes 6 (Part 4; Registration Document for retail Non-Equity Securities), 14 (Part 5; Securities Note for Retail Non-Securities) and 22 (Part 6; Consent to the Use of the Prospectus) of Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2019/980 and complies with the EWR-WPPDG.

This Prospectus has been filed with the FMA Liechtenstein as the competent authority responsible for the approval of this Prospectus pursuant to article 9 EWR-WPPDG in connection with article 31 of the Prospectus Regulation. This Prospectus has been approved by the FMA Liechtenstein and has been notified by the FMA Liechtenstein to the respective competent authorities in Austria, Germany, the Czech Republic, Hungary, Bulgaria, Luxembourg, Italy, Slovakia, Poland, Romania, Slovenia and Croatia. In Switzerland the Prospectus will be approved in accordance with the Financial Service Act (Finanzdienstleistungsgesetz, FIDLEG). Following its approval, the Prospectus was deposited with the FMA Liechtenstein, made available to the ESMA via the FMA

Liechtenstein and published in electronic form on the website of the Issuer at www.sun-contracting.com. The FMA Liechtenstein only approves this Prospectus as meeting the standards of completeness, comprehensibility and consistency imposed by the Prospectus Regulation. Approval by the FMA Liechtenstein should not be considered to be an endorsement of the Bonds of the Issuer. Investors should make their own assessment as to the suitability of investing in the Bonds. This document constitutes a “prospectus” and has been drawn up as a single document for the purpose of article 6.3 of the Prospectus Regulation.

THE CONTENT OF THE INFORMATION PROVIDED IN THIS PROSPECTUS WAS NOT EXAMINED BY THE FMA LIECHTENSTEIN UNDER THE CORRESPONDING LEGAL PROVISIONS.

Pursuant to article 23 of the Prospectus Regulation, every significant new factor, material mistake or material inaccuracy relating to the information included in the prospectus which may affect the assessment of the Bonds and which arises or is noted between the time when the Prospectus is approved and the closing of the Offer Period or the time when trading on a regulated market begins, whichever occurs later, shall be mentioned in a supplement to the Prospectus (amending or supplementing information) without undue delay, which supplement to the Prospectus shall be filed with the FMA Liechtenstein for approval and shall be published by the Issuer promptly after having been approved. The summary, and any translations thereof, shall also be supplemented, where necessary, to take into account the new information included in the supplement. This Prospectus is valid for 12 months from its date of approval. The obligation to supplement the Prospectus in the event of a significant new factor, material mistake or material inaccuracy does not apply when this Prospectus is no longer valid.

This Prospectus is not intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation and should not be considered as a recommendation by the Issuer that any recipient of this Prospectus should purchase any of the Bonds. Each investor contemplating to purchase Bonds should make its own independent investigation of the financial condition and affairs, and its own appraisal of the creditworthiness, of the Issuer.

POTENTIAL INVESTORS ARE RECOMMENDED TO READ THE PROSPECTUS BEFORE MAKING AN INVESTMENT DECISION IN ORDER TO FULLY UNDERSTAND THE POTENTIAL RISKS AND REWARDS ASSOCIATED WITH THE DECISION TO INVEST IN THE BONDS. INVESTORS SHOULD CONSIDER THAT AN INVESTMENT IN THE BONDS INVOLVES RISKS, AND THAT IF CERTAIN RISKS, IN PARTICULAR THOSE DESCRIBED IN THE CHAPTER “RISK FACTORS”, DO MATERIALISE, INVESTORS MAY LOSE THE ENTIRE FUNDS INVESTED OR AN ESSENTIAL PART THEREOF. AN INVESTOR SHOULD ONLY MAKE AN INVESTMENT DECISION FOLLOWING A SEPARATE THOROUGH ANALYSIS (INCLUDING A PERSONAL ECONOMIC, LEGAL AND TAX ANALYSIS) BEFORE MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE BONDS, SINCE ANY EVALUATION OF THE ADEQUACY OF AN INVESTMENT IN THE BONDS DEPENDS ON THE FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF THE FINANCIAL SITUATION AND OTHER CIRCUMSTANCES OF EACH INVESTOR. INVESTORS SHOULD GENERALLY PURCHASE BONDS OR FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AS PART OF A WIDER FINANCIAL STRUCTURE THAN AS STAND-ALONE INVESTMENTS. THE BONDS ARE COMPLEX FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS. INVESTMENTS IN BONDS ARE A VERY RISKY ASSET MANAGEMENT STRATEGY. THEREFORE, INVESTORS ARE ADVISED TO ONLY INVEST A SMALL PART OF THEIR FREELY-AVAILABLE FUNDS IN THE BONDS, BUT NOT THEIR WHOLE FUNDS OR ON CREDIT WITH FUNDS HAVING BEEN BORROWED. BONDS ARE SUITABLE ONLY FOR INVESTORS WHO HAVE WELL-FOUNDED KNOWLEDGE OF SUCH INVESTMENT FORMS AND ARE ABLE TO ASSESS THEIR RISKS.

What are the key risks that are specific to the Issuer?

The risk factors have, within each category, been listed in an order of priority that reflects their materiality based on the probability of their occurrence and the expected magnitude of their negative impact on the Issuer.

Risks related to the Issuer

The Issuer has significant outstanding indebtedness. The Issuer is not restricted to incur additional indebtedness or guarantees ranking senior or pari passu with the Bonds.

The statutory auditor has issued qualified audit opinions with regard to the financial statements of the Issuer as of 31 December 2018 and as of 31 December 2019. With respect to the financial year that ended on 31 December 2018, the auditor was unable to assess the collectability of receivables in the amount of EUR 1,062,266.78 and to assess the recoverability of financial assets in the amount of EUR 8,614,000.00. With respect to the financial year that ended on 31 December 2019, the statutory auditor was unable to assess the recoverability of financial assets in the amount of EUR 8,614,000.00. With respect to both years, 2018 and 2019, the auditor noted that contrary to the provisions of Art 179a PGR, the annual financial statements were not submitted to the general meeting for approval within six months following the end of the financial year.

Having entered the photovoltaic market in 2017, the Issuer has to rely on financing through debt finance as source of liquidity (such as the proceeds from the issuance of the Bonds) to fund the expansion of its business. The Issuer has already issued several bonds. The share capital of the Issuer currently amounts to EUR 1,000,000.00. In case of a successful placement of the Bonds, the Issuer's (already high) leverage may increase to a large extent. The Issuer has not agreed to, and has not entered into, any restrictive covenants in connection with the issuance of the Bonds regarding its ability to incur additional indebtedness or guarantees ranking pari passu or senior to the obligations under or in connection with the Bonds. Any additional indebtedness of the Issuer may significantly increase the likelihood of a deferral of, or default in, payments of interests or principal under the Bonds and/or may reduce the amount recoverable by Bondholders in the event of insolvency or liquidation of the Issuer.

Liquidity risk could limit the Issuer's ability to engage in planned activities and grow its business. The Issuer is subject to the risk of not being able to raise enough funds for the planned expansion of its business activities.

Liquidity is essential to the Issuer's businesses. In case of a lack of liquidity (eg due to a poor placement of Bonds) the Issuer may not have sufficient funds available to maintain or to extend its activities, which employs substantial amounts of funds. The Issuer's business activities are capital intensive and the continued funding of such activities is critical to maintain or to increase business activities in periods when net operating cash flow is negative or insufficient to cover capital expenditures and to maintain or to increase business activities in accordance with its business plans. The Issuer is exposed to a risk that the proceeds collected by the issue of the Bonds will not be sufficient to extend its business.

Risks related to the Issuer's business

The business model of the Issuer regarding photovoltaic contracting is essentially depending on the electricity which is generated by a photovoltaic system. Actual results may differ from corporate planning.

The Issuer bases its calculation with respect to revenues to be generated in connection with Photovoltaic Contracting on the average performance, the average lifetime of photovoltaic systems and the maintenance costs of photovoltaic systems in the past and on climatic conditions to be expected in an area a photovoltaic system is to be installed. Photovoltaic systems consist of several technical components, which are believed to have an average lifetime of approximately 20 years. Material uncertainties remain with regard to the actual climatic conditions and the durable performance of the respective photovoltaic systems. Hence, the actual performance of a photovoltaic system might turn out be lower as calculated, e.g. due to lower solar radiation and/or due to underperformance of a photovoltaic system and/or increased maintenance costs for the photovoltaic system and/or the need for any additional investments.

The Issuer is subject to a calculation risk as well as planning and financing risks in connection with the development and installation of its photovoltaic systems. Furthermore, there is a risk with respect to roof-based photovoltaic systems.

There are risks involved in the construction and operation of photovoltaic systems, which include planning, financing and operational risks. The Issuer might insufficiently or incorrectly plan a photovoltaic system. This may result in a customer not getting the projected or calculated amount of electricity and the Issuer losing out on calculated remuneration. In case of roof-based photovoltaic systems, there is (inter alia) a risk that the statics and load-bearing capacity of a roof structure is incorrectly calculated or misjudged and that a roof on which the photovoltaic system is intended to be mounted may be structurally unsuitable for carrying its load. Consequently, additional investments may become necessary or a photovoltaic system might even have to be dismantled or the procurement of a replacement roof might become necessary. In any of these events, additional costs would be incurred by the Issuer.

The Issuer is reliant on third parties with respect to the installation and the maintenance of photovoltaic systems.

The Issuer retains third parties with respect to the installation and maintenance of photovoltaic systems. Such contractors often work with subcontractors. The Issuer is exposed to the risk that contractors and subcontractors perform the respective assigned tasks poorly or fail to deliver on time or fail to deliver at all, which may result in additional costs to be borne by the Issuer or in legal action to be taken by customers against the Issuer.

The Issuer is subject to increased competition.

In a number of jurisdictions, regulations or laws have been or are being considered to limit or reduce greenhouse gas emissions. Tighter emission reduction targets, especially in connection with subsidies in relation to renewable energies, may lead to other competitors entering the market in which the Issuer is operating which may lead to increased competition, increased price pressure and may result in the Issuer not being able (or only to a lesser extent) to procure new customers.

The Issuer is subject to the risk arising from the operation of photovoltaic systems.

Defects or faults may affect a photovoltaic system and may result in an interruption of operation, during which periods none, or only reduced amounts of, electricity can be generated and provided to customers or fed into the grid. Unforeseen damages could harm third parties. As a consequence, damages have to be compensated and costs are to be borne by the Issuer as part of its liability (as far as the resulting claims for damages by third parties are not fully covered by insurance).

The Issuer is exposed to and subject to a significant number of laws and regulations. The Issuer is subject to adverse effects on its business and financial conditions as well as its operating results due to amendments in the legal framework.

Amendments or changes to applicable legal and tax framework or any amendment to, or change in, an official and binding interpretation of any such laws may affect the Issuer because the calculation and the planning of the Issuer regarding a market entry is based on prevailing legal and tax framework that might subsequently be changed or amended. Any amendments to applicable law and regulations may even make the Issuer's business model partially or wholly unprofitable.

The Issuer is exposed to the risk that the existing insurance coverage will not be sufficient to cover all conceivable damages.

Although the Issuer's insurance is intended to cover the majority of the risks to which it is exposed, it cannot account for every potential risk associated with its operations. Adequate coverage at reasonable rates is not always commercially available to cover all potential risks and no assurance can be given that, where available, such coverage would be sufficient to cover all losses and liability to which the Issuer may be exposed.

Section C – Securities

Sub-section

What are the main features of the Bonds?

- The Bonds constitute direct, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Issuer, ranking pari passu among themselves.
- The Bonds will be issued in denominations of EUR 1,000.00 each ("Principal Amount").
- The initial offer price ("Issue Price") is EUR 1,020.00 per Bond and includes a premium in an amount of 2 % of the Principal Amount per Bond. The minimum subscription amount is EUR 1,020.00.
- The Bonds are denominated in Euro.
- International securities identification number (ISIN): AT0000A2K2R0
- The Bonds have a term of 5 years, from 1 November 2020 until 31 October 2025 and are scheduled to be redeemed on 1 November 2025 ("Maturity Date").
- The Bonds shall bear interest on their aggregate Principal Amount at a rate of 5.00 % per annum.

Where will the Bonds be traded?

The Issuer intends to apply for the Bonds to be traded on the Vienna Stock Exchange (Vienna MTF) and on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange (Open Market).

What are the key risks that are specific to the Bonds?

The risk factors have been listed in an order of priority that reflects their materiality based on the probability of their occurrence and the expected magnitude of their negative impact on the Issuer.

The Bonds are complex financial instruments that may not be a suitable investment for all investors.

An investment in the Bonds is not a bank deposit and not within the scope of a deposit protection scheme. The Bonds are unsecured. Bondholders are not entitled to terminate the Bonds during the term of the Bond without cause. Potential investors are recommended to seek individual advice before making an investment decision, taking into account their knowledge, experience, financial situation and investment objectives (including risk tolerance).

Risks for the Bondholders as creditors of the Issuer

An investment in the Bonds involves taking credit risk on the Issuer. Since the Bonds are unsecured obligations of the Issuer, benefiting from no direct recourse to any assets or guarantees, the Bondholders can only rely on the ability of the Issuer to pay any amount due under the Bonds. The market value of the Bonds will depend on the creditworthiness of the Issuer.

Bondholders are not entitled to influence the Issuer.

The Bonds do not grant the rights of shareholders, in particular the right to participate in, or to vote in, the general meetings of the Issuer. Bondholders have no influence on any decisions of the Issuer. This may lead to decisions being taken at the Issuer's shareholders' meetings, which are not in the interest of the Bondholders. The interests of the Issuer and those of the Bondholders may also be different and the Issuer may conduct its business contrary to the interests of the Bondholders.

Bondholders are subject to the risk of limited liquidity of the Bonds and exposed to the risk that there might be no secondary market for the Bond.

Although application will be made for the Bonds to be admitted to listing and trading on (i) the Vienna MTF of the Vienna Stock Exchange and to listing and trading on (ii) the Open Market of the Frankfurt Stock Exchange, there is no assurance that such application will be accepted or that an active trading market will develop. The Bonds may not have an established trading market when issued and admitted to trading. Continued liquidity may not sustain if a secondary market develops. Bondholders are exposed to the risk that they may not be able to sell their Bonds at all or only at prices, which are below the prices they are seeking, or at prices that will not provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed trading market.

Section D – Offering

Sub-section

Under which conditions and timetable can investors invest in the Bonds?

The Bonds will be publicly offered to investors who have their respective seat or residence in one of the Offer States in the period from presumably 29 October 2020 to presumably 23 October 2021 (“Offer Period”). Any investor intending to acquire and to subscribe for any Bonds is requested to download the subscription form which is available under www.sun-contracting.com (“Subscription Form”). Investors are further requested to complete the Subscription Form and to supply the details of the security account the subscribed Bonds shall be delivered to after the subscription offer has been accepted by the Issuer and payment of the Issue Price has been effected. The completed and signed Subscription Form and a copy of an identification document of the investor shall be sent to the Issuer via e-mail to zeichnung@sun-contracting.com. The Issuer will inform an investor of the acceptance or non-acceptance of its subscription offer via e-mail to be sent to the e-mail address which the investor has used in order to submit the subscription offer. Thereafter, the investor shall effect payment of the subscription amount, consisting of the Principal Amount of the Bonds having been subscribed for plus a premium of 2 % of the Principal Amount, free of charge (“Subscription Amount”) to the account (“Deposit Account”) which the Issuer is maintaining with the paying agent (Baader Bank Aktiengesellschaft, “Paying Agent”). As soon as payment of the Subscription Amount has been effected and transferred to the Deposit Account of the Issuer, the Paying Agent shall transfer the Bonds to the security account of the investor on the next Value Date (which is either 1 November 2020 or the first day of each month during the Offer Period if subscriptions are being made after 1 November 2020). Provided that the credit institution which is maintaining a security account on behalf of an investor is willing to directly settle a trade in Bonds with the Paying Agent, an investor may alternatively send the completed Subscription Form to such credit institution which in turn shall forward this Subscription Form to the Paying Agent in order to settle the subscription of the Bonds on behalf of such investor in accordance with the delivery versus payment method.

Why is this Prospectus being produced?

The proceeds from the sale of the Bonds less costs for external consultants and expenses payable by the Issuer estimated to be EUR 663,000.00, are estimated to be EUR 9,537,000.00. The offer of the Bonds is being made to enable the Issuer to further pursue its corporate purpose and to increase the number of photovoltaic projects in connection with Photovoltaic Contracting. From time to time, the Issuer will consider the acquisition of complementary businesses or assets where the opportunity is presented to do so at attractive prices.

3 RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Bonds involves a high degree of financial risk.

Investors should note that the price of the Bonds may decline and that investors could lose all or part of their investment. The Bonds offer no guaranteed income and no capital protection. An investment in the Bonds is compatible only with investors who do not need a guaranteed income or capital protection, who (either alone or in conjunction with an appropriate financial or other adviser) are capable of evaluating the merits and risks of such an investment and who have sufficient resources to be able to bear any losses that may result therefrom.

Potential investors should carefully read and consider the material risk factors that are specific to the Issuer and/or the Bonds described below and the other information contained in this Prospectus and consult with their own professional advisers (including their financial, accounting, legal and tax advisers) if they consider it necessary before they make a decision with respect to the acquisition of Bonds. In addition, investors should be aware that the risks described herein might combine and thus intensify one another.

The risks discussed below are those that the Issuer currently view as material and such risk factors have, within each category of risks, been listed in an order of priority that reflects their materiality based on the probability of their occurrence and the expected magnitude of their negative impact on the Issuer. These are, however, not the only risks that the Issuer is facing. Additional risks and uncertainties, including risks that are not known to the Issuer at present or that are currently not deemed to be material, may also arise or become material in the future, which could lead to a decline in the value of the Bonds.

3.1 Risks related to the Issuer

The Issuer has significant outstanding indebtedness. The Issuer is not restricted to incur additional indebtedness or guarantees ranking senior or pari passu with the Bonds.

The statutory auditor has issued qualified audit opinions with regard to the financial statements of the Issuer as of 31 December 2018 and as of 31 December 2019. With respect to the financial year that ended on 31 December 2018, the auditor was unable to assess the collectability of receivables in the amount of EUR 1,062,266.78 and to assess the recoverability of financial assets in the amount of EUR 8,614,000.00. With respect to the financial year that ended on 31 December 2019, the statutory auditor was unable to assess the recoverability of financial assets in the amount of EUR 8,614,000.00. With respect to both years, 2018 and 2019, the auditor noted that contrary to the provisions of Art. 179a PGR, the annual financial statements were not submitted to the general meeting for approval within six months of the end of the financial year.

As a company that has entered the photovoltaic market in 2017, the Issuer has to rely on financing through debt finance as one source of liquidity. Hence, the Issuer intends to fund its business and the expansion of its business with the funds raised from the issue of the Bonds. At the date of this prospectus, the share capital of the Issuer amounts to EUR 1,000,000.00. In case of a successful placement of the Bonds, the Issuer's already high leverage will increase to a large extent, depending on the volume of the Bonds to be placed with investors.

The Issuer has not agreed to, and has not entered into, any restrictive covenants in connection with the issuance of the Bonds regarding its ability to incur additional indebtedness or guarantees ranking pari passu or senior to the obligations under or in connection with the Bonds. The Issuer is not restricted from issuing additional financial instruments. The Issuer may also take out loan financing at any time. Further debt financing may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Bonds and the Issuer's ability to meet its payment obligations under the Bonds and may reduce the funds from which the Bonds will be redeemed. The incurrence of any such additional indebtedness or guarantees may significantly increase the likelihood of a deferral of, or default in, payments of interests or principal under the Bonds and/or may reduce the amounts recoverable by Bondholders in the event of insolvency or liquidation of the Issuer.

The maximum volume of the qualified subordinated loans is intended to be EUR 50,000,000.00.

Issue date: 12 August 2020

Firstly, the Issuer has issued a registered bond ("Sun Contracting Registered Euro Bond 2020") with an aggregate principal amount of up to EUR 48,000,000.00. A public offer is currently being made in the Principality of Liechtenstein, Austria, Luxembourg, the Czech Republic, Hungary, Bulgaria, Italy, Slovakia, Poland, Romania, Croatia, Slovenia and will also encompass a public offer to be made in Switzerland.

Secondly, the Issuer has issued a registered bond ("Sun Contracting Registered CHF Bond 2020") with an aggregate principal amount of up to CHF 24,000,000.00. A prospectus has been approved by the FMA Liechtenstein on 12 August 2020. A public offer is made in the Principality of Liechtenstein, Austria, Luxembourg, the Czech Republic, Hungary, Bulgaria, Italy, Slovakia, Poland, Romania, Croatia, Slovenia and will encompass a public offer to be made in Switzerland.

Issue date: 2 September 2020

The Issuer has issued a registered subordinated bond ("Sun Contracting Registered Junior Bond 2020") with an aggregate principal amount of up to EUR 48,000,000.00. A prospectus has been approved by the FMA Liechtenstein on 2 September 2020. The bonds constitute direct, unsecured and subordinated obligations of the Issuer, ranking pari passu among themselves. A public offer is currently being made in the Principality of Liechtenstein and in the Federal Republic of Germany.

The Issuer is also planning to issue further bonds which may feature a structure which will be adjusted to specific jurisdictions, in which the bond will be offered to the general public.

As of the date of this prospectus, the Issuer has a significant amount of indebtedness, which may impair its operating and financial flexibility and could adversely affect its business and financial position. A high level of indebtedness could cause the Issuer to dedicate a substantial portion of cash flow from operations to payments to service debt, which could reduce the funds available for working capital, capital expenditure, acquisitions and other general corporate purposes and could limit its ability to borrow additional funds and its flexibility in planning for, or reacting to, changes in technology, customer demand, competitive pressures and the industries in which it operates, placing the Issuer at a competitive disadvantage compared to those of its competitors that are less leveraged than it is. In addition, a high level of indebtedness together with future debt financing, if accessible, may increase the Issuer's vulnerability to both general and industry specific adverse economic conditions. This could have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Liquidity risk could limit the Issuer's ability to engage in planned activities and grow its business. The Issuer is subject to the risk of not being able to raise enough funds for the planned expansion of its business activities.

Liquidity, or ready access to funds, is essential to the Issuer's businesses. A lack of liquidity may mean that the Issuer will not have funds available to maintain or increase its activities, which employs substantial amounts of capital. The Issuer's industrial activities are capital intensive and the continued funding of such activities is critical to maintain business activities in periods when net operating cash flow is negative or insufficient to cover capital expenditures and to maintain or to increase business activities in accordance with its business plans.

The Issuer intends to fund the expansion of its business with the funds to be raised from (inter alia) the issue of the Bonds. However, there is a risk that the funds generated by the issue of the Bonds will not be sufficient for the Issuer to extend its operations.

The Issuer is reliant upon the availability of medium and long-term funding for the implementation of photovoltaic projects. Further, financing agreements usually contains customary covenants, which may limit the Issuer in its business activities and stipulate the use of assets as collateral and/or provide for restrictions with respect to (additional or further) debt finance of the Issuer. In particular, the fact that the Issuer, as a company that has been established in 2017 only, needs to gain a solid foothold in the market it is operating entails a significant funding risks, especially since it is not certain that the Issuer will be able to qualify for additional external funding or provide the necessary collateral.

The availability of funds is depending on market conditions and the financial, earnings and asset situation of the Issuer. The lack of availability of funding may have a material adverse impact on the ability to carry out photovoltaic projects and thus on the business, the results of operations and financial condition of the Issuer and may affect its ability to honour its obligations under the Bonds.

As a relatively young company, the Issuer has only a limited corporate history, lacks experience and may be unable to achieve or sustain profitability or accurately predict its respective future results. The Issuer lacks long-term experience with regulatory approvals or with respect to dealings with customers and suppliers in the photovoltaic industry.

Founded in 2017, the Issuer is a relatively young company and has been active in the photovoltaic market as of the date of this Prospectus only to a minor extent and as a relatively new competitor faces competition with more experienced, more well-known and more established companies. The Issuer's competitive risk exists in particular with regard to the acquisition of customers.

The Issuer may be faced with the risk that it is still unknown and has yet to build a reputation. Such drawback may be reflected, for example, in the necessity to spend an increased amount of time in dealings with authorities to obtain regulatory approvals.

The construction of photovoltaic systems and any necessary ancillary buildings, such as transformer and inverter stations, or other facilities, such as cable routes, may require official (construction) approval. In addition, there may be legal issues and delays associated with regulatory approvals. It cannot be ruled out that a prerequisite to obtain such approvals will be introduced or extended in the future. This may have a negative impact on the construction of photovoltaic systems. The lack of licences or approvals may result in the dismantling of the photovoltaic systems concerned.

The Issuer possesses only limited experience with specific market conditions and related needs. Hence, there is an increased risk that the Issuer does not correctly assess market conditions and needs. In addition, unexpected obstacles and delays in the implementation of the planned photovoltaic projects may occur and, even with expert planning and costing, may lead to a significant increase in project costs.

Bondholders are exposed to the risk of partial or total failure of the Issuer to make interest and/or redemption payments under the Bonds, including the risk of a total loss of the invested funds (credit risk). The insolvency of the Issuer may lead to a default of interest payments and to a total loss of the invested funds.

The Issuer intends to use the proceeds from the issue of the Bonds, among other things, for the expansion and development of its business. The Issuer has prepared a business plan to implement its business strategy. The business plan necessarily includes estimates. The management of the Issuer has also set specific goals for the future. These goals do not express predictions or even commitments whatsoever, such goals are merely goals, which the Issuer intends to achieve. No assurance can be given that the anticipated goals will be achieved. The Issuer's operating results may not develop in accordance with its expectations.

From time to time, the Issuer considers the acquisition of complementary businesses or assets where the opportunity is presented to do so at attractive prices. The Issuer will consider using the funds raised from the issue of the Bonds to fund such future potential acquisitions. However, there is a risk that the Issuer may incorrectly assess the risks of a potential acquisition or that legal, economic or technical risks may not be determined or may not be determined correctly. For example, a company that is acquired may not achieve the expected business performance, may be faced with warranty or liability claims, or may have technical standards that do not meet the standards set by the Issuer. The Issuer may also be liable for past acts, omissions or liabilities of companies or businesses it has acquired, which may be unforeseen or greater than previously anticipated at the time of the relevant acquisition.

This may have a material adverse effect on the net assets, financial position and results of operations of the Issuer and thus impair its ability to honour its obligations in connection with, and make payments on, the Bonds.

An investment in the Bonds is not a bank deposit and not protected or secured within the scope of a (statutory) deposit protection scheme (deposit guarantee or investor compensation). In the event of the Issuer's insolvency, Bondholders may not and should not expect a repayment of the invested funds from any third party. Investors are subject to the risk of a partial or total failure of the Issuer to make interest and/or redemption payments that the Issuer is obligated to make under the Bonds. The worse the creditworthiness of the Issuer, the higher is the risk of loss. A materialization of the credit risk may result in partial or total failure of the Issuer to make interest and/or redemption payments.

There is a risk, that in the event of the insolvency of the Issuer, the obligations of the Issuer related to the Bonds, e.g. to pay interest or principal at the Maturity Date or upon redemption of the Bonds, may no longer be fulfilled. The Issuer's inability to pay interests and the principal (the capital amount of the debt under the Bonds, excluding any interest; "Principal") may therefore lead to the default of interest payments, to an increased risk of insolvency and to a total loss of the invested funds by Bondholders. If the Issuer does not have sufficient funds at the Maturity Date of the Bonds or is not in a position, to secure appropriate follow-up financing to fully redeem the Bonds, this may lead to the Issuer's insolvency and thus to a total loss of the invested funds for the Bondholders. Hence, Bondholders are faced with the risk that the Issuer may default on its interest and/or obligations to pay Principal under the Bonds as a result of an impaired financial situation.

3.2 Risks related to the Issuer's business

The business model of the Issuer regarding photovoltaic contracting is essentially depending on the electricity which is generated by a photovoltaic system. Actual results may differ from corporate planning.

The business model and the calculation of revenues by the Issuer in connection with its photovoltaic contracting is essentially depending on the electricity, which is generated by photovoltaic systems. The Issuer bases its calculation with respect to its business model on the average performance, the average lifetime of photovoltaic systems and on the maintenance costs of photovoltaic systems in the past and on forecasts with regard to expected climatic conditions and to the level of radiation, which may be expected to be recovered by a photovoltaic system in an area a photovoltaic system is to be installed.

A photovoltaic system consists of different technical components, which are believed to have a lifetime of approximately 20 years. Over time, these components will be worn down and damaged by the effects of thermal expansion and contraction, UV light, and damage from windblown particles. The internal calculations of the Issuer are based on a lifetime of photovoltaic systems of 20 years and on expected climatic conditions in the particular area in which a photovoltaic system is planned to be installed. Material uncertainties remain with regard to the lifetime of photovoltaic systems, its reliability, its sustained performance as well as the meteorological situation.

During its operation time, a photovoltaic system can be influenced by many factors that may reduce its performance and its output. A photovoltaic system's performance is directly tied to how much sunlight reaches the panels to be transformed into electric energy. Various causes may lead to an energy production loss in solar photovoltaic systems. For instance photovoltaic systems are sensitive to ambient temperature (the performance of a photovoltaic system decreases with increasing temperature) and to shading. If a small section of a photovoltaic system is shaded by the branch of a tree or other sources of shading like as an example neighbouring buildings, a significant drop in power output from the photovoltaic system may result. The efficiency of a photovoltaic system is also impacted by dust and grime ("soiling") that accumulates on a photovoltaic system. In snowy climates, the amount of snow loss will be dependent on several factors, including the tilt of the panels, duration and intensity of snowfall, ambient temperature, and possibly wind. Snow cover will block production until it either slides off the panels or melts away. For an efficient performance of a photovoltaic system, shading has to be avoided to the maximum possible extent.

Forecasts are based on annual revenues from energy being generated by photovoltaic systems, which are derived from long-term averages of weather observations as well as from information regarding the performance of photovoltaic systems and grid connections. However, the meteorological situation may differ from the long-term average, which is underlying the calculation of the Issuer. Such deviations, as well as seasonal deviations, may result in the calculations on which the Issuer is basing its business model turning out to be incorrectly assessed and that as a result the Issuer generates less electricity than calculated which leads to less revenue for the Issuer. Furthermore, climatic changes associated with an increase in extreme weather conditions may result in deviations from the median value typically used in the calculation and projection of energy yield.

Hence, the actual performance of a photovoltaic system might turn out be lower, e.g. due to lower solar radiation and/or due to underperformance and underachievement of a photovoltaic system and/or higher maintenance costs for the photovoltaic system and/or the need for any additional investments. Declining growth, deterioration regarding the efficiency of equipment, unusual or exceptional pollution or snow cover on the panel surfaces of photovoltaic systems may also have a significant impact on the profitability of the photovoltaic system. It cannot be ruled out that, overall, less electricity will be generated over the entire period of the economic forecast calculation than is assumed therein. Deviations from the projected annual yield of generated energy used in earning forecasts may reduce the profitability of a photovoltaic system and consequently the return on investment for the Issuer and may even make the Issuer's business model unprofitable.

Furthermore, there is a risk that negotiations regarding feed-in contracts to be concluded and implemented with energy suppliers or grid operators stall, falter, are delayed or are subject to any other issues, which may result in an interruption or a delay of a grid connection or no feed-in of eligible electricity at all. In such cases, the proceeds of the Issuer would considerably be reduced which would have a material adverse effect on the profitability and the return on investment for the Issuer.

Projected sales figures, earnings, costs and investment periods, on which corporate planning of the Issuer is based, rely on the experience and expectations of the Issuer. There are no guarantees, that any of these expectations will materialise. If expectations have to be revised, planned projects may not be realised in full or may materialise only in part or at a later date.

Should any of these risks described herein materialize, the Issuer may be faced with a material adverse impact on its business, results of operations and financial condition.

The Issuer is subject to a calculation risk as well as planning and financing risks in connection with the development and installation of its photovoltaic systems. Furthermore, there is a risk with respect to roof-based photovoltaic systems.

There are specific risks involved in the construction and operation of photovoltaic systems. These risks include planning, financing and operating risks. For example, the Issuer could insufficiently or incorrectly plan the photovoltaic system, which is to be installed for a specific customer. This may result in the customer not getting the projected or calculated amount of energy and the Issuer losing or not generating calculated remuneration.

In case of roof based photovoltaic systems, there is a risk that the statics and load-bearing capacity of the particular roof structure is incorrectly calculated or misjudged by either the Issuer or any other third person having been assigned by the Issuer. As a consequence, a specific roof on which the photovoltaic system is intended to be mounted may be structurally unsuitable for carrying the load of the photovoltaic system. Additionally, further issues have to be taken into account with regard to a roof to be used for a photovoltaic system, which are inter alia its size and orientation, whether it is a flat rooftop or rooftop with a low slope or whether it is blocked by shade. As a result of any such event or in case of a lack of suitability or limited suitability of a rooftop, a photovoltaic system may not be built at all or may only be built under certain circumstances and with considerable additional efforts and costs.

If an ineptness of a roof is determined only after the photovoltaic system has already been set up (for example due to damage to the roof or the building), additional construction measures may be required to provide the necessary stability or to prevent damages to the roof, the building or to the photovoltaic system. It cannot be ruled out that additional investments may become necessary or that the photovoltaic system might even have to be completely dismantled and that the procurement of a replacement roof becomes necessary. In any of these events, additional costs would be incurred for the Issuer.

Furthermore, the Issuer is exposed to the risk of incorrectly calculating the energy remuneration to be agreed upon with a respective customer, making the operation of the respective photovoltaic system unprofitable for the Issuer.

The realisation of any such risks could materially adversely affect the Issuer's business, results of operations and financial condition and may affect its ability to meet its obligations pursuant to the Bonds.

The Issuer is reliant on third parties with respect to the installation and the maintenance of photovoltaic systems.

The Issuer retains third parties (contractors) with respect to the installation of photovoltaic systems. Such contractors often work with subcontractors and other contractors. The Issuer is exposed to the risk that contractors, individual subcontractors and other contractors perform the respective assigned tasks poorly or fail to deliver on time or fail to deliver at all. Furthermore, contractors, subcontractors or any other contractual parties may default due to any insolvency proceedings they are undergoing. In the event of unexpected technical difficulties, failures in the course of installation or delays in a photovoltaic project, there is a risk that the agreed time frame with regard to the completion of a photovoltaic system will not be met. In some circumstances, a photovoltaic system may only be approved after additional extensive work is carried out, which must be remunerated separately.

The Issuer is exposed to the risk of legal disputes with respect to the settlement of bills, especially if there are difficulties or delays in the execution of agreements with contractors to which the Issuer turns to with regard to the construction and mounting of photovoltaic systems and if it is unclear who has caused such difficulties or delays. Similar disputes may arise if, for example, a company that has been assigned by the Issuer to be a contractor or a subcontractor provides additional services, without those services having been contractually stipulated in advance and in detail.

Conversely, the Issuer may be sued by customers for damages or with regard to the payment of contractually-agreed penalties. Hence, the Issuer may be involved in a number of legal disputes in the ordinary course of its business, some of which involve large claims, the outcome of which is often difficult to assess, not infrequently taking a long time and not always won by the Issuer. Any resulting expenses or defaulted claims may have a material adverse impact on the Issuer's business, results of operations and financial condition of the Issuer.

During the term of the contract with its customers, the Issuer, as the operator of a photovoltaic system, is solely responsible for its maintenance and other services. Insolvency of, or poorly execution by, a contractor or an equipment manufacturer, who are being retained by the Issuer in order to provide such maintenance and other services, may also result in the Issuer's costs for maintenance and servicing being far above the costs that the Issuer has calculated for a respective photovoltaic system.

Appointing a replacement contractor to replace a defaulting contractor and who provides services in substitution for any of the services of a defaulting contractor following the termination or partial termination of this contract with such defaulting contractor or subcontractor, is usually associated with increased costs, which are usually to be borne by the Issuer and may additionally lead to delays in the construction or in the installation of a photovoltaic system. It may also be possible that the Issuer may not be able to seek redress for such increased costs in whole or in part from its respective contractual partner.

Such issues with contractors, subcontractors and contractual partners may have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's business, results of operations and financial condition. Hence, the Issuer is reliant on third parties.

The Issuer is subject to increased competition

In a number of jurisdictions, regulations or laws have been or are being considered to limit or reduce emissions. Increasing regulation of greenhouse gas emissions, including tighter emission reduction targets in numerous jurisdictions, especially in connection with subsidies in relation to renewable energies, is likely to lead to other competitors entering the market in which the Issuer is operating. Increased competition may lead to increased price pressure. Further, increased competition may result in the Issuer not being able (or only to a lesser extent) to procure new customers.

In addition, some electricity production from photovoltaics is already in place and could be even more in competition with other methods of electricity production from other renewable energy sources, such as wind power, biomass or geothermal energy. These other methods could exert a high competitive pressure on photovoltaics, for example, if other methods prove to be more economical due to technical progress or receive greater regulatory support for political reasons.

The Issuer intends to expand its activities in the Photovoltaic Contracting market, thus to set up photovoltaic systems for customers, to operate the photovoltaic systems for the minimum term of the agreements with customers, generally contemplated to be 18 years, and to transfer ownership of those photovoltaic systems to the respective customer after the term of an agreement has expired. This business model is not reserved to the Issuer and may be pursued by other entities and persons. Should the Issuer's and its potential competitors' geographic markets overlap, the Issuer may not be selected for photovoltaic projects and/or may not achieve anticipated or estimated results of operation.

An intensification of the competitive situation with other providers may have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's business, results of operations and financial condition.

The Issuer is subject to the risk arising from the operation of photovoltaic systems.

Defects or faults affecting a photovoltaic system (some of which may be barely noticeable) may result in an interruption of operation, during which periods no electricity (or only reduced amounts of electricity) can be generated by a photovoltaic system and provided to customers or fed into the grid. Further, the operation of a photovoltaic system may cause unforeseen damages, such as surge damage, which could harm third parties. As a consequence, damages have to be compensated and costs are to be borne by the Issuer as part of its liability as an operator of photovoltaic systems or as a result of its customary statutory duties regarding public safety. As far as the resulting claims for damages by third parties are not fully covered by insurance benefits, such damages have to be compensated by the Issuer. Such obligations may have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's business, results of operations and financial condition.

The Issuer is exposed to and subject to a significant number of laws and regulations. The Issuer is subject to adverse effects on its business and financial conditions as well as its operating results due to amendments in the legal framework.

The activities of the Issuer are exposed to and subject to extensive laws and regulations governing various matters.

The Issuer's business model in Austria is also depending on the statutory regulation on feed-in tariffs, and thus on the respective applicable law and regulations. At the date of this Prospectus, the applicable regulations may be found, inter alia, in the Austrian Green Electricity Act (BGBl I 75/2011, as amended; Ökostromgesetz) and in the Austrian Green Electricity Ordinance 2012 (BGBl II 471/2011, as amended; Ökostromverordnung). It cannot be ruled out that the lawmakers will change the legal basis regarding the permissibility, feed-in and reimbursement of green electricity, in particular of photovoltaic systems for plants not yet in operation or even for those already in operation.

In addition, the enactment of new acts and regulations and changes to existing acts and regulations, compliance with which could be expensive or onerous, could also have a material adverse impact on the ability of the Issuer to operate its businesses and/or the profitability of its industrial investments. It cannot be ruled out that a current or future statutory regulation will be changed. These circumstances may materially affect the profitability of the Issuer.

Because of the Issuer trying to expand its business and to set foot on markets outside of Austria, the Issuer is and will become subject to numerous foreign jurisdictions. Therefore, the Issuer is exposed to the risk of changes in the legal and tax framework (including not limited to any amendment to, or change in, an official and binding interpretation of any such acts) in Germany and in those countries in which the Issuer is intending to provide its services now and in the future. Such changes may in particular affect the Issuer because the calculation and the planning of the Issuer with respect to a market entry is based on prevailing legal and tax framework that is subsequently being changed or amended. Furthermore, it cannot be ruled out that a current or future applicable act or any statutory regulation will be changed. Any amendments to applicable law and regulations may even make the Issuer's business model partially or wholly unprofitable.

A change in, or amendment to, applicable tax laws and regulations, the practice of their application and their interpretation by authorities and courts may have a negative impact on the economic behaviour of the Issuer, and also on the economic value of the Bonds and the yields generated by Bondholders on the funds invested in the Bonds. The amount of the return after taxes largely depends on the individual tax situation of each Bondholder.

This may have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's business, results of operations and financial condition.

The Terms and Conditions are governed by Austrian law, as in force on the date of the Prospectus. No warranty can be given as to the effect of possible court decisions or changes to the law applicable to the Issuer or to changes in administrative practice which is relevant for the Issuer after the date of this Prospectus. Bondholders are subject to the risk that such decisions and/or changes may adversely affect the Issuer, the Bonds and the investors.

The Issuer is exposed to the risk that the existing insurance coverage will not be sufficient to cover all conceivable damages.

Although the Issuer's insurance is intended to cover the majority of the risks to which it is exposed, it cannot account for every potential risk associated with its operations. Additionally, there cannot be assurance that the insurance coverage the Issuer has, will be adequate or that its insurers will pay a particular claim. The photovoltaic systems operated by the Issuer may be damaged or even destroyed by fire, storm, hail, other events of force majeure or due to other circumstances. There could be insufficient insurance coverage to cover such damages. Certain damages, in particular due to natural disasters such as earthquakes, floods, business interruption, war or terrorism may not be insurable or only at uneconomic conditions.

Changes or amendments to applicable law or regulations with respect to the installation of photovoltaic systems may result in the insurance benefits not being sufficient for the establishment of a legally compliant situation. In general, insurance policies may contain usual deductibles, exclusions and caps. The business risk of the Issuer is not insured.

Hence, adequate coverage at reasonable rates is not always commercially available to cover all potential risks and no assurance can be given that, where available, such coverage would be sufficient to cover all losses and liability to which the Issuer may be exposed. The occurrence of a material adverse event not fully or only partially covered by insurance could have a material adverse effect on the business, results of operations and financial condition of the Issuer.

3.3 Risks related to the Bonds

The Bonds are complex financial instruments that may not be a suitable investment for all investors.

The Bonds are unsecured and are not savings accounts or insured deposits of a bank. The Bonds are not insured or guaranteed by any governmental agency or other institution.

Pursuant to the Terms and Conditions, Bondholders are not entitled to terminate the Bonds during the term of the Bond without cause.

Hence, each prospective Bondholder must determine the suitability of an investment in Bonds in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each prospective Bondholder should:

- (i) have sufficient knowledge and experience to make an in-depth evaluation of the Bonds, the merits and risks of investing in the Bonds and the information contained in this Prospectus or any applicable supplement;
- (ii) have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the Bonds and the impact such investment will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- (iii) have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Bonds, including where the currency for Principal or interest payments is different from the potential investor's currency;
- (iv) understand thoroughly the terms of the Bonds and be familiar with the behaviour of financial markets; and
- (v) be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, monetary, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

This Prospectus does not replace indispensable advice of an attorney, a bank, or a financial, investment or tax advisor in each individual case. The absence of such consultation may result in material adverse consequences for a Bondholder. Such consequences may be due to the fact that the characteristics of the Bonds purchased are not consistent with the individual situation or with the individual investment needs of a Bondholder. Prospective purchasers should also consult their own tax advisers as to the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Bonds.

Risks for the Bondholders as creditors of the Issuer

Credit risk

An investment in the Bonds involves taking credit risk on the Issuer. Since the Bonds are unsecured obligations of the Issuer, benefiting from no direct recourse to any assets or guarantees, the Bondholders can only rely on the ability of the Issuer to pay any amount due under the Bonds. The market value of the Bonds will depend on the creditworthiness of the Issuer (as may be impacted by the risks related to the Issuer as described above). If the creditworthiness of the Issuer deteriorates, it could have potentially very serious repercussions on the Bondholders because: (i) the Issuer may not be able to fulfil all or part of its payment obligations under the Bonds, (ii) the market value of the Bonds may decrease and (iii) investors may lose all or part of their investment.

Bondholders are not entitled to influence the Issuer.

The Bonds do not grant the rights of shareholders in the Issuer, in particular the right to participate or to vote in the general meeting of the Issuer. Bondholders have no influence on the business policy or any decisions to be taken by the Issuer. Hence, this may lead to decisions being taken at the Issuer's shareholders' meetings, which are in the interest of the shareholders, but not in the interest of the Bondholders. The interests of the Issuer and those of the Bondholders may also be different and the Issuer may conduct its business contrary to the interests of the Bondholders. Further borrowings by the Issuer may adversely affect the market price of the Bonds. Bondholders are also subject to the risk that the Issuer may have concluded or may enter into financing arrangements, which may contain provisions that are more favourable for the creditors and contracting partners of such financing arrangements than the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds. Such provisions may inter alia include shorter terms or more favourable early termination rights or higher interest rates or similar provisions.

The Issuer is also entitled to enter into transactions, which directly or indirectly affect the Bonds. These transactions may have a negative impact on the price development of the Bonds. The Issuer has no obligation to notify Bondholders of such transactions, even if such transactions are likely to affect the market price of the relevant Bonds. Bondholders should always inform themselves about the development of market prices.

Hence, Bondholders are subject to the risk that they will not be able to prevent or to influence corporate governance that conflicts with their interests. Details of investments that the Issuer has pursued or is pursuing or intends to pursue or with regard to the use of proceeds from the issue of Bonds, will not be disclosed on a named or detailed basis to Bondholders. As a result, Bondholders will not have an opportunity to evaluate such investments. Therefore, Bondholders will be dependent upon the Issuer's judgement and its ability in investing and managing its assets and in using the proceeds of the issue of the Bonds well and wisely.

These aspects could have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Bondholders are subject to the risk of limited liquidity of the Bonds and exposed to the risk that there might be no secondary market for the Bond.

Although application will be made for the Bonds to be admitted to listing and trading on (i) the Vienna MTF of the Vienna Stock Exchange and to listing and trading on (ii) the Open Market of the Frankfurt Stock Exchange, there is no assurance that such application will be accepted or that an active trading market will develop. The Bonds may not have an established trading market when issued and admitted to trading. There can be no assurance of a secondary market for the Bonds or the continued liquidity of such market if one develops. If an active trading market for the Bonds does not develop or is not maintained, the market or trading price and liquidity of the Bonds may be significantly adversely affected. The development or continued liquidity of any secondary market for the Bonds will be affected by a number of factors such as general economic conditions, the financial condition, the creditworthiness of the Issuer as well as other factors such as the outstanding amount of the Bonds, any redemption features of the Bonds and the level, direction and volatility of interest rates generally. Such factors may adversely affect the market value of the Bonds in a significant manner. Hence, Bondholders are exposed to the risk that they may not be able to sell their Bonds at all or only at prices, which are below the prices they are seeking, or at prices that will not provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed trading market.

4.5 BUSINESS OVERVIEW

4.5.1 Principal Activities

The primary business activity of the Issuer is the provision, installation, financing and operation of photovoltaic systems (photovoltaics) through contracting models.

Photovoltaics is a technology used to convert sunlight (solar radiation) into electrical energy. Solar cells are either connected in series or in parallel to convert solar light into voltage. The solar cells to be used in such cases usually consist of silicon crystals. "Photovoltaic Contracting" (as described and defined below) means that the Issuer enters into a contract with a customer according to which the Issuer shall install and operate a photovoltaic system.

The scope of the business model and the strategy "Photovoltaic Contracting" (as described below) which has been devised in connection with photovoltaic systems (herein referred to as "Photovoltaic Contracting") is based on (i) the delivery of a complete photovoltaic system with a module output/production to be agreed upon with a customer in advance, (ii) as well as the installation and assembly of the complete photovoltaic system by the Issuer including necessary materials and ancillary materials and related safety devices (surge arrester, equipotential bonding, etc.). In order for the Issuer to install a roof based photovoltaic system, a customer shall agree to provide space on the roof of a building during the term of the Photovoltaic Contracting.

Within the scope of Photovoltaic Contracting "usage and purchase agreements" (hereinafter, "Agreements") are being concluded between the Issuer and its customers. Pursuant to such an Agreement a customer of the Issuer shall be entitled to be provided by the operator of the photovoltaic system, hence the Issuer, with the electricity which is generated by the photovoltaic system at a remuneration to be agreed upon by the customer and the Issuer in advance. At the same time a customer shall be obligated in accordance with the Agreement to provide space on the roof of a building to be used for a photovoltaic system which is to be installed by the Issuer.

Agreements are usually being entered for a term of 18 years. After expiry of the term of an Agreement, the ownership of a photovoltaic system shall be transferred to the respective customer. After having paid the last monthly instalment, a contracting customer usually becomes the owner of the entire photovoltaic system. During the term of the Agreement, the Issuer as operator of the photovoltaic system, shall be solely responsible for the operation, maintenance and servicing of the photovoltaic system.

In consideration of the installation and maintenance of the complete photovoltaic system and the provision of electricity, the Issuer shall be entitled to a remuneration which is depending on the electricity to be generated by the respective complete photovoltaic system. Such remuneration shall be payable by the contracting customer to the Issuer in monthly instalments, whereas an Agreement usually stipulates that over its entire term a fixed amount in EURO per kWh of electricity produced shall be charged (example: EUR 0.18 per kWh of electricity produced).

In the span of the initial twelve months of the term of an Agreement, the calculation of the monthly instalment to be paid by a customer will be estimated and calculated on the basis of the installed module capacity and the minimum number of hours of sunshine (or daylight to be converted into electricity) to be expected or presumed for the region in which the photovoltaic system is to be installed. Accordingly, the amount of monthly instalments is to be determined individually for each customer and each project.

At the end of the initial twelve months, the remuneration which is based on an estimated output of a photovoltaic system is reconciled with the measured real electricity output of the photovoltaic system whereas the difference between the estimated consumption and the real consumption of a customer, hence any overpayment or underpayment, is to be settled between the Issuer and the customer. Such reconciliations and adjustments are being made annually and are based on the records of the actual annual yield of the photovoltaic system. Accordingly, the revenues of the Issuer are calculated on the basis of the electricity having been produced whereas the monthly instalments to be paid by a customer are adjusted on a yearly basis to the output of a photovoltaic system in the respective previous year.

Hence, the Issuer's business model is essentially based on the production and sale of electricity. The costs of installing and maintaining a photovoltaic system is generally calculated to be paid off for the Issuer after approximately 4 to 7 years (break-even point), so that the Issuer is able to generate profits from its activity in the remaining years of the term of the Agreement.

The upside for customers is that the price for the procurement of energy to be agreed upon with the Issuer essentially corresponds to the price which the respective customer would have to pay to an energy provider at the time the Agreement was concluded. However, the Agreements usually stipulate that there will be no price increases during the term of the Agreement, which provides the customers with greater predictability regarding its energy costs. In addition, the ownership of the photovoltaic system will be transferred to the customer without any additional payments to be made by a customer after the end of the term of an Agreement of usually 18 years.

The aforementioned description of the services to be provided by the Issuer outlines its business model in Austria. The Issuer intends to offer its services in several markets (in other jurisdictions) as well, whereby the corresponding business model may depend on, and may be adjusted to, varying legal and regulatory conditions and constraints in the respective markets. Hence, the business model which the Issuer will operate and offer outside of Austria may differ from the business model the Issuer is conducting in Austria as far as the electricity to be generated by the photovoltaic system is not necessarily supplied to the (legal) person providing the roof space.

The business model, which the Issuer is running in Germany currently differs from the business model in Austria because the electricity to be generated by the photovoltaic system which is installed on the roof of the building of a customer is not necessarily supplied to that customer but may be fed into the grid instead, whereby the Issuer will be entitled to a remuneration from e.g. the grid operator. Nevertheless, the business model which the Issuer has devised for Germany does include the option to provide energy which is generated from a roof-based photovoltaic system to the customer who has provided the space for a roof-based photovoltaic system pursuant to an electricity supply contract. However, more often than not, the electricity generated by the roof-based photovoltaic system is fed into the grid and not delivered to the customer who is making the roof space available.

The Issuer enters into corresponding agreements (“Use Agreements”) with the customer whose roof space is to be used by the Issuer for the installation of a photovoltaic system. Pursuant to such Use Agreement the Issuer undertakes to pay to the customer (and owner of the corresponding roof/building) a fee (payable as one-off payment or in instalments). On the basis of a Use Agreement and subject to technical feasibility (eg roof suitability with regard to inter alia size, the question whether a roof is strong enough to support the weight of a photovoltaic system, the orientation and angle of the roofs) the Issuer is entitled to install and run a photovoltaic system (including all components, facilities, components and ancillary systems) on the roof space of a customer. The installation and maintenance of a photovoltaic system includes all ancillary measures that are necessary and purposeful (such as assembly, maintenance and repair work, EEG-compatible grid connection, remote monitoring, security, etc.) to ensure the operation of the photovoltaic system.

Pursuant to the Use Agreements to be entered into with customers, a customer authorises the Issuer to take all actions (to make and to receive declarations) necessary to obtain any necessary administrative approvals or licences from any authority with regard to the installation and operation of a photovoltaic system. The photovoltaic system shall remain the property of the Issuer during the term of the Use Agreement.

In order to secure the rights of use of the Issuer under a Use Agreement in connection with the installation, operation and use of a photovoltaic system, a customer and owner of the roof space shall undertake to have limited personal easements and reservations entered in the land register in favour of the Issuer. The customer shall also agree to refrain from doing anything that could disrupt or impair the operation of the photovoltaic system. In particular, the customer shall refrain from installing any obstacles or buildings or to plant any trees or bushes that could cast a shadow or wind on the photovoltaic systems.

At the end of each term of a Use Agreement (to be agreed upon on a case by case basis), it may be agreed with a customer that the photovoltaic system will either be dismantled or sold to the customer who (in the later case) would accordingly become owner of the photovoltaic system. Alternatively, it may be agreed with a customer that the term of the Use Agreement will be extended. In such case, the customer would be entitled to receive a corresponding fee from the Issuer for the use of its roof space. On the other hand, the Issuer would receive compensation from e.g. the grid operator for feeding the electricity which is generated by the photovoltaic system into the grid.

As of the date of this Prospectus, the Issuer has entered into several agreements with respect to its business model regarding Photovoltaic Contracting as described herein and has implemented several Photovoltaic Contracting projects. As of June 2020, the Issuer is operating 273 photovoltaic systems in Germany, Austria and the Principality of Liechtenstein. The total output of these 273 photovoltaic system amounts to 49.9 MWp.

Financial statements as of 31 December 2017

The Issuer's annual financial statements as of 31 December 2017 have been reviewed by ReviTrust Grant Thornton AG and the following statement is made in the accompanying report on the annual financial statements:

“Report of the auditors on the review of the financial statements 2017 (translation of the original version dated March 29, 2018)

to the general meeting of Sun Contracting AG, Balzers

As statutory auditor, we have reviewed the financial statements of Sun Contracting AG for the period from September 7, 2017 to December 31, 2017.

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Board of Directors. Our responsibility is to issue a report on the financial statements based on our review. We confirm that we meet the legal requirements concerning professional qualification and independence.

Our review was performed in accordance with the Standard on the Review of financial statements issued by the Liechtenstein Association of Auditors. This Standard requires that we plan and perform the review in such a way as to enable material misstatements in the financial statements to be detected, albeit with less assurance than in a statutory audit. A review consists primarily of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures in relation to the data used to prepare financial statements. We have performed a review and not an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the financial statements do not give a true and fair view of the company's net assets, financial position and results of operations in accordance with Liechtenstein law. Furthermore, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the financial statements as well as the proposed appropriation of available earnings do not comply with Liechtenstein law and the company's articles of incorporation.

In the course of our review, nothing has come to our attention that would give us reason not to recommend these financial statements for approval.

Grant Thornton AG”

Financial statements as of 31 December 2018

The Issuer's annual financial statements as of 31 December 2018 have been audited by ReviTrust Grant Thornton AG for the purpose of auditing annual financial statements in accordance with the standards of the Liechtenstein Association of Auditors, and the following statement is made in the accompanying report on the annual financial statements:

“Report of the auditors on the financial statements 2018 (translation of the original version from July 15, 2019) to the general meeting of Sun Contracting AG, 9496 Balzers

As statutory auditors, we have audited the financial statements (balance sheet, income statement and notes) of Sun Contracting AG for the year ended December 31, 2018.

These financial statements are the responsibility of the board of directors. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We confirm that we meet the legal requirements concerning professional qualification and independence.

Our audit was conducted in accordance with auditing standards promulgated by the Liechtenstein profession, which require that an audit be planned and performed to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and the annual report are free from material misstatement. We have examined on a test basis evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. We have also assessed the accounting principles used, significant estimates made and the overall financial statements presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position, the financial performance and the results of operations in accordance with the Liechtenstein law and the company's articles of incorporation, subject to the following qualifications:

The balance sheet of Sun Contracting AG includes receivables amounting to EUR 2'714'746.37. The collectability of receivables in the amount of EUR 1'062'266.78 cannot be assessed.

Furthermore, the balance sheet of Sun Contracting AG includes financial assets amounting to EUR 9'780'000.59. The recoverability of financial assets in the amount of EUR 8'614'000 cannot be assessed.

Taking into account the above qualifications, we recommend that the financial statements submitted to you be approved.

Should, due to the abovementioned qualifications, a value adjustment be necessary which would lead to a capital loss or to over-indebtedness, we expressly refer to Arts. 182e and 182f of the "PGR" (Liechtenstein Persons and Companies Act).

The proposal of the board of directors for the appropriation of available earnings complies with the Liechtenstein law and the company's articles of incorporation.

We point out that the financial statements have not been submitted to the general meeting for approval within six months following the ending of the financial year.

Schaan, August 7, 2020

Hence, the auditor was unable to assess the collectability of receivables in the amount of EUR 1,062,266.78 and to assess the recoverability of financial assets in the amount of EUR 8,614,000.00. Further, the auditor has noted that contrary to the provisions of Art. 179a PGR, the annual financial statements were not submitted to the general meeting for approval within six months of the end of the financial year.

As a consequence, the auditor has only issued a qualified audit opinion with regard to the financial year that ended on 31 December 2018.

Each Bondholder is entitled to terminate the Bonds in the event of a default and to demand immediate redemption at their Principal Amount plus any unpaid interest accrued up to the date of repayment. An event of default shall have the following meaning, inter alia, if

- i) the Issuer violates any obligation arising out of or in connection with the Bonds or the Terms and Conditions and the breach persists more than 30 days from receipt of a written request;
- ii) insolvency proceedings are instituted against the Issuer and, if the motion has been made by a third party, such motion is not withdrawn within 60 days or rejected for any other reason than lack of cost covering assets (or the equivalent in another jurisdiction);

The Issuer shall be entitled to terminate the Bonds vis-à-vis a Bondholder if such Bondholder defaults in making any payments on the respective due date which such Bondholder is obligated to pay to the Issuer pursuant to the Terms and Conditions relating to the Bonds.

If a Bondholder makes use of its right to terminate its Bonds, such termination shall only be applicable with respect to the Bonds that are being held by the respective (terminating) Bondholder at the time of termination; the Bonds of other Bondholders shall remain unaffected. If the Issuer terminates the Bonds for tax reasons (in accordance with clause 9 of the Terms and Conditions, "Termination in a Tax Event"), such termination shall be effective with respect to all outstanding Bonds. Each Bond shall bear interest on its then outstanding Principal Amount at a fixed rate of 5.00 % per annum (the "Interest Rate") as from and including 1 November 2020 (the "Interest Commencement Date") to and including 31 October 2025. Interest is due and payable in arrears on 1 November of each year ("Interest Payment Date"). The first interest payment will be made for the period starting on (and including) 1 November 2020 and ending on 31 October 2021 (including). The first payment of interest shall be made on 1 November 2021.

(b) the time limit on the validity of claims to interest and repayment of principal.

Claims for the payment of interest lapse after three years from the Maturity Date; claims regarding the payment of the Principal shall lapse after thirty years from the Maturity Date.

5.4.9 Redemption of the Bonds

The Bonds have a term of 5 years, ending on 31 October 2025. The Bonds will be redeemed at their Principal Amount on 1 November 2025 ("Maturity Date").

(b) Details of the arrangements for the amortisation of the loan, including the repayment procedures. Where advance amortisation is contemplated, on the initiative of the Issuer or of the Bondholder, it shall be described, stipulating the amortisation terms and conditions.

Provided that the Issuer has arranged for the payment of an amount to the Deposit Account (as defined in 5.5.1.2 herein) corresponding to the overall sum of interest payments to be paid to Bondholders prior to an Interest Payment Day, the Paying Agent shall effect interest payments to the accounts of Bondholders which accounts have been specified in the Subscription Form (as defined in 5.5.1.2 herein).

(c) Description of the method whereby the yield is to be calculated in summary form.

For the purpose of calculating the annual interest payments:

Each period from and including the Interest Commencement Date to but excluding the first Interest Payment Date and thereafter from and including each Interest Payment Date to but excluding the next following Interest Payment Date is an interest period (the "Interest Period"). Interest shall be calculated on the basis of actual/actual in accordance with ICMA rules. Where interest is to be calculated in respect of a period which is shorter than an Interest Period, interest will be calculated on the basis of the actual number of calendar days elapsed in the relevant period, from the first date in the relevant period to the last date of the relevant period, divided by the actual number of calendar days in the Interest Period in which the relevant period falls (including the first such day of the relevant Interest Period and the last day of the relevant Interest Period).

The yield is to be determined on the basis of the respective holding period of the Bonds and the respective date of subscription.

5.4.10 Representation of non-equity security holders including an identification of the organisation representing the investors and provisions applying to such representation. Indication of the website where the public may have free access to the contracts relating to these forms of representation.

Bondholders may not be able to assert claims on their own.

According to the Austrian Notes Trustee Act (Kuratoren-gesetz, RGBI 1874/49) and Austrian Notes Trustee Supplementary Act (Kuratoren-Ergänzungsgesetz, RGBI 1877/111) an Austrian court may appoint a trustee for the Bonds to exercise the rights and to represent the interests of Bondholders on their behalf in which case the ability of Bondholders to pursue their rights under the Bonds individually may be limited. Pursuant to the Austrian Notes Trustee Act, a trustee (Kurator) may be appointed by an Austrian court upon the request of any interested party (e.g. a Bondholder) or upon the initiative of the competent court, for the purposes of representing the common interests of the Bondholders in matters concerning their collective rights. In particular, this may occur if insolvency proceedings are initiated against the Issuer, in connection with any amendments to the Terms and Conditions or changes relating to the Issuer, or under other similar circumstances. If a trustee is appointed, it will exercise the collective rights and represent the interests of the Bondholders and will be entitled to make statements on their behalf which shall be binding on all Bondholders. Investors may not assert their claims from Bonds individually. Hence, if a trustee represents the interests and exercises the rights of Bondholders, this may conflict with, or otherwise adversely affect, the interests of individual or all Bondholders. This may hinder the enforcement of the individual interests of individual Bondholders.

5.4.11 In the case of new issues, a statement of the resolutions, authorisations and approvals by virtue of which the securities have been or will be created and/or issued.

The basis for the issue of the present Bond is a resolution of the general meeting of the Issuer dated 16 September 2020. There is no further basis for the issue of the Bond.

5.4.13 A description of any restrictions on the transferability of the securities.

The Issuer intends to apply for the Bonds to be listed and admitted to trading on (i) the Vienna MTF of the Vienna Stock Exchange and (ii) on the Open Market of the Frankfurt Stock Exchange.

5.4.14 A warning that the tax legislation of the investor's Member State and of the issuer's country of incorporation may have an impact on the income received from the Bonds. Information on the taxation treatment of the securities where the proposed investment attracts a tax regime specific to that type of investment.

The taxation of income from the Bonds differs depending on the type of investor. Hence, the tax legislation of the investor's seat Member State of the European Union and of the Issuer's country of incorporation may have an impact on the income received from the Bonds.

Therefore, potential investors of Bonds are strongly advised to consult their own advisors prior to the purchase of Bonds and to carry out an independent assessment of the tax aspects of the acquisition, holding, sale and any other disposition with regard to the Bonds. The taxation of income from the Bonds may differ depending on the type of investor.

5.4.15 General information regarding the tax situation

Any amounts payable on the Bonds are not subject to any withholding or deduction of any present or future mandatory taxes, duties, charges or costs of any kind imposed, collected, retained or assessed by or in the Principality of Liechtenstein or any of its local bodies or authorities having the power to impose taxes (the “Taxes”), unless such withholding or deduction is required by law.

If (i) any amendment to, or change in, the laws (or any rules or regulations thereunder) of the Principality of Liechtenstein or any political subdivision or any taxing authority thereof or therein, or (ii) any amendment to, or change in, an official and binding interpretation of any such laws, rules or regulations by any legislative body, court, governmental agency or regulatory authority (including the enactment of any legislation and the publication of any judicial decision or regulatory determination), or (iii) any generally applicable official interpretation or pronouncement that provides for a position with respect to such laws or regulations that differs from the previous generally accepted position is enacted, promulgated, issued or becomes effective otherwise on or after the Issue Date of the Bonds (any event described herein under (i), (ii) or (iii) shall hereinafter be referred to as a “Tax Event”) and as a consequence taxes, fees or other charges are imposed on any payments to be made by the Issuer with respect to Principal or interest on these Bonds by way of withholding or deduction at the source and the Issuer is required to pay Additional Amounts (as defined in clause 8 of the Terms and Conditions; hence, if the Bondholders are required to deduct any taxes from any payments by the Issuer, then the sum payable by the Issuer to Bondholders will be increased as necessary so that after making all required deductions, Bondholders receive an amount equal to the sum they would have received had no such deductions been made), the Issuer may, at its option, redeem all, but not some only, of the Bonds then outstanding at 100 per cent. of their Principal Amount together with any accrued and unpaid interest subject to a notice period of at least 30 days. Such early redemption shall be effected by means of a notice in accordance with clause 14 of the Terms and Conditions, whereby such early redemption shall take effect 30 days after notice of early redemption in accordance with clause 14 of the Terms and Conditions.

An early termination in a Tax Event is not feasible (i) if made by the Issuer 90 days prior to the commencement date of a Tax Event, or (ii) if at the time at which the termination is effected, the obligation to pay or to deduct or withhold Additional Amounts has ceased to be in force.

Method and delivery of the Bonds

The Paying Agent has entered into a paying agent agreement with the Issuer and has agreed to transfer subscribed Bonds to the respective Securities Account of an investor (who has subscribed for Bonds and has effected payment of the Subscription Amount to the Deposit Account).

After allocation of the Bonds in accordance with the chronological order of receipt of Subscription Offers by investors and after payment of the Subscription Amount to the Deposit Account has been effected prior to a Value Date, the Paying Agent shall transfer the subscribed Bonds to the respective Security Account of an investor in the name and on behalf of the Issuer on the ensuing Value Date. Transfer and delivery of the Bonds to the Securities Account, which an investor is maintaining with a credit institution, shall only be made after an investor has effected payment of the Subscription Amount free of charge with regard to the subscribed Bonds to the Deposit Account prior to a Value Date. The Paying Agent will arrange for the transfer of the Bonds to the credit institution which is maintaining the Securities Account of an Investor on the ensuing Value Date after payment of the Subscription Amount has been transferred to the Deposit Account.

Subscribed Bonds are payable on 1 November 2020 ("First Value Date"), or – if Bonds are subscribed at a later date – on the first day of each month (each a "Further Value Date").

The Paying Agent shall make the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds available to the Issuer less any costs and commissions due to the Paying Agent (if such costs and commissions have not been paid by the Issuer yet).

(i) Settlement to be made free of payment.

Delivery of the Bonds to the Securities Account of an investor occurs only if payment of the Subscription Amount has been effected by an investor. As soon as the payment of the Subscription Amount has been effected and transferred to the Deposit Account, the Paying Agent shall transfer the Bonds to the Security Account of the investor on the ensuing Value Date thereafter.

In case of any subscription being made after the First Value Date, the Bonds having been subscribed shall be transferred to the Securities Account of an investor on the ensuing Further Value Date provided that the investor has effected payment of the Subscription Amount to the Deposit Account of the Issuer prior to such Further Value Date.

In the event that payment of the Subscription Amount is not effected or is not effected in full on or prior to a Value Date, the Paying Agent will promptly inform the Issuer thereof accordingly. In such case Bonds will not be issued. Any amounts having already been received by the Issuer (as the case may be) shall be refunded to such defaulting investor. The Issuer shall be entitled (but shall not be obligated) to inform the investor that the Subscription Amount has not been transferred to the Deposit Account yet (or has not been transferred in full yet) and may grant a grace period to the defaulting investor to honour its obligation to effect payment of the Subscription Amount or to effect payment of the Subscription Amount in full, respectively.

(ii) Delivery versus payment settlement

Provided that the credit institution which is maintaining a Security Account on behalf of an investor is willing to settle a trade in the Bonds (that have been subscribed for by an investor) with the Paying Agent directly and irrespectively of any obligations of such credit institution with respect to advisory services or with respect to the assessment of suitability and appropriateness of an investment in the Bonds, an investor may alternatively send the completed Subscription Form to such credit institution which in turn shall forward this Subscription Form to the Paying Agent in order to settle the subscription of the Bonds in accordance with the delivery versus payment method.

The Bonds will be offered to the public in the Offer States and are available to be subscribed by investors between and including 29 October 2020 until and including 23 October 2021.

5.5.1.3 A description of the possibility to reduce subscriptions and the manner for refunding amounts paid in excess by applicants.

The Bonds will be allocated in accordance with the chronological order of receipt of Subscription Offers. Subscription Offers shall be fulfilled by the Issuer; however, the Issuer reserves the right to reduce Subscription Offers or to not accept Subscription Offers without having to provide any reason.

If the Issuer refuses to accept or reduces subscriptions (eg due to oversubscriptions), the Issuer shall promptly return any amounts that it has already received from investors (as the case may be) and which exceed the amount necessary to subscribe for the Bonds being allocated to such investor.

5.5.1.4 Details of the minimum and/or maximum amount of the application, (whether in number of securities or aggregate amount to invest).

There is no maximum amount with respect to subscriptions.

5.5.1.5 Method and time limits for paying up the securities and for delivery of the securities.

The Issuer shall inform an investor of the acceptance or non-acceptance of an Subscription Offer via e-mail to be sent to the e-mail address which the investor has used in order to submit the Subscription Offer. In case a Subscription Offer of an investor is accepted by the Issuer, the Issuer shall inform the Paying Agent of such acceptance accordingly and shall provide a copy of the Subscription Form to the Paying Agent.

After an investor has been informed by the Issuer that the Subscription Offer has been accepted by the Issuer, an investor shall effect payment of the Subscription Amount, consisting of the Principal Amount of the Bonds having been subscribed for plus a premium of 2 % of the Principal Amount, free of charge to the account which the Issuer is maintaining with the Paying Agent ("Deposit Account") on the next Value Date.

The corresponding Subscription Amount required to pay for subscribed Bonds shall be transferred by the investor to the Deposit Account in full, free of costs and any charges on or prior to the next Value Date. Otherwise, Bonds may not be allocated to an investor if such investor is in default with the payment of the Subscription Amount.

In case of any subscriptions being made by investors after the First Value Date, that is after 1 November 2020, the Issue Price shall be increased and shall include accrued interest (5.5.1.2).

5.5.1.6 A full description of the manner and date in which results of the offer are to be made public.

The number of Bonds to be issued and allocated to investors will be determined by the Issuer on each Value Date in accordance with the number of Subscription Offers having been received and accepted by the Issuer and will be announced together with the result of the Offer on the Issuer's website at www.sun-contracting.com after the Offer Period has expired. Subscribers will also be informed by the Issuer about the number of Bonds allocated to them.

5.5.1.7 The procedure for the exercise of any right of pre-emption, the negotiability of subscription rights and the treatment of subscription rights not exercised.

5.5.2.2 Process for notifying applicants of the amount allotted and an indication whether dealing may begin before notification is made.

The number of Bonds to be issued and allocated to investors will be determined by the Issuer on each Value Date in accordance with the number of Subscription Offers having been received and accepted by the Issuer. Investors will be informed by the Issuer about the number of Bonds allocated to them. As soon as the Bonds have been transferred to a Securities Account of a subscribing investor the Bonds may be tradeable (over-the-counter, if feasible). Application will be made for the Bonds to be listed and admitted to trading at the Vienna MTF of the Vienna Stock Exchange and at the Open Market of the Frankfurt Stock Exchange.

(c) Indication of the amount of any expenses, and taxes charged to the subscriber or purchaser. Where the issuer is subject to Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 or Directive 2014/65/EU and to the extent that they are known, include those expenses contained in the price.

Investors are charged a premium of 2 % of the Principal Amount with respect to each Bond. Other than the premium the Issuer does not charge investors with any expenses. Investors may subscribe for the Bonds at the Issue Price (offer price), which corresponds to EUR 1,020.00 and includes a premium of 2 % of the Principal Amount with respect to each Bond. If Bonds are not subscribed on or prior to the First Value Date, but on any later Value Date, the Issue Price shall be increased and shall include accrued interests for the period from the First Value Date to the respective Value Date the Bonds have been subscribed. Such accrued interests shall be computed on a monthly basis (5.5.1.2).

Expenses and other costs charged by third parties may be incurred prior to the subscription of Bonds (such as expenses and costs of any financial advisors or other consultants) and subsequent purchase of the Bonds during the Offer Period and in the secondary market (such as costs of credit institutions or brokers), which may lead to a material cost burden and may be above average, especially for small orders.

Further costs may arise in connection with the opening and maintenance of a Securities Account and a corresponding cash account. Investors are asked to inform themselves about the actual cost burden before purchasing or selling Bonds.

The Issuer is neither subject to Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 nor to Directive 2014/65/EU.

5.5.4 Placing and Underwriting

Interest on the Bonds will be paid when due in Euro. The Principal and interest on the Bonds will be paid, subject to applicable tax law and other applicable laws, by crediting them to the relevant account specified by the respective Bondholder to the Issuer, whereas the credit institution where a Securities Account is being maintained may deduct and withhold any withholding tax payable on interest in accordance with applicable law.

Baader Bank Aktiengesellschaft, 85716 Unterschleißheim, Weißenstephaner Straße 4, Germany, has agreed to be paying agent in connection with the issuance of the Bonds ("Paying Agent").

The Bonds will be represented by a modifiable global note pursuant to sec 24 lit b of the Austrian Securities Deposit Act (Depotgesetz). The right to individual securitization as well as to delivery of individual Bonds or individual interest coupons is excluded. The global note will be held in custody with the OeKB CSD GmbH as the central depository for securities for the duration of the term of the Bonds. The Bondholders are entitled to co-ownership shares in the global note which may be transferred in accordance with the general terms and conditions of OeKB CSD GmbH and outside the Republic of Austria in accordance with the provisions of Clearstream Banking AG, Luxembourg, and Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V., Brussels, Belgium.

5.5.4.3 Name and address of the entities agreeing to underwrite the issue

The Offer will not be underwritten by any third parties (neither on a firm commitment nor without firm commitment or on a best effort basis). Hence, no underwriting commissions will have to be paid by the Issuer.

1.4. Delivery of the Bonds to investors shall be made either (i) with effect to the Issue Date provided that the corresponding Issue Price (in relation to the subscribed Bonds) has been transferred to the account which the Issuer is maintaining with the Paying Agent or (ii) – if Bonds are being subscribed after the Issue Date – with effect to the ensuing first day of a month after the corresponding Issue Price has been paid by subscribing investors. If the first day in a month is not a Business Day (as defined below) delivery of the Bonds shall be made on the next Business Day.

The Global Note shall be signed by authorized representatives of the Issuer and shall be authenticated by the Paying Agent (as defined in clause 7 herein) appointed in accordance with clause 7 of these Terms and Conditions. The Global Note shall be deemed a global note pursuant to sec 24 lit b) Austrian Depot Act (Depotgesetz). Definitive Bonds and interest coupons will not be issued.

2.2. Clearing System. The Global Note will be kept in custody by or on behalf of OeKB CSD GmbH (OeKB CSD) (the "Clearing System") until all obligations of the Issuer under the Bonds have been satisfied.

3. Status

3.1. The Bonds constitute direct, unconditional, unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer, ranking pari passu without any preference among themselves and at least pari passu with all other unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer, present or future, save for any exception under applicable mandatory law.

3.2. The Bonds do not confer any shareholders' rights with respect to the Issuer to Bondholders. In particular, the Bondholders will not be entitled to a share in any liquidation proceeds of the Issuer as a result of any holding of Bonds.

4. Term

4.1. The term of the Bonds commences on 1 November 2020 (inclusive) and ends on 31 October 2025 (inclusive). The Bonds thus have a term of 5 (five) years and are due for repayment on 1 November 2025.

4.2. The Bonds are available for subscription between 29 October 2020 and 23 October 2021 ("Offer Period").

5. Interest

5.1. Each Bond shall bear interest on its then outstanding Principal Amount at a fixed rate of 5.00 % per annum (the "Interest Rate") as from and including 1 November 2020 (the "Interest Commencement Date") to and including 31 October 2025. Interest is due and payable in arrears on 1 November of each year ("Interest Payment Date"). The first interest payment will be made for the period starting on (and including) 1 November 2020 and ending on 31 October 2021 (including). The first payment of interest shall be made on 1 November 2021.

5.2. Calculation of Interest. Each period from and including the Interest Commencement Date to but excluding the first Interest Payment Date and thereafter from and including each Interest Payment Date to but excluding the next following Interest Payment Date is an interest period (the "Interest Period"). Interest shall be calculated on the basis of actual/actual in accordance with ICMA rules. Where interest is to be calculated in respect of a period which is shorter than an Interest Period, interest will be calculated on the basis of the actual number of calendar days elapsed in the relevant period, from the first date in the relevant period to the last date of the relevant period, divided by the actual number of calendar days in the Interest Period in which the relevant period falls (including the first such day of the relevant Interest Period and the last day of the relevant Interest Period).

5.3. The Issuer undertakes to pay, as and when due, principal (the capital amount of the debt under the Bonds, excluding any interest, "Principal") and interest as well as all other amounts payable on the Bonds in Euro (EUR). Such payments of Principal and interest on the Bonds shall, subject to applicable fiscal and other laws and regulations, be made to the Paying Agent for on-payment to the Clearing System or to its order for credit to the respective Bondholders upon presentation and (in the case of the payment in respect of Principal) surrender of the Global Note to the Paying Agent. Payments to the Clearing System or to its order shall, to the extent of amounts so paid, constitute the discharge of the Issuer from its corresponding obligations under the Bonds.

5.4. Due date not a Business Day. If an Interest Payment Date or any other payment date arising in connection with the Bonds falls on a day which is not a Business Day (as defined below), the Bondholders shall be entitled to receive Principal and interest on the following Business Day. Bondholders shall have no right to claim payment of interest or other indemnity in respect of such delay in payment.

For these purposes, "Business Day" means a day (other than a Saturday or a Sunday) on which banks are open for general business in Vienna and on which the Clearing System as well as all relevant parts of the Trans-European Automated Real-time Gross Settlement Express Transfer System 2 (TARGET2) are operational to effect payments.

6. Maturity, Redemption and Repurchase

6.1. Maturity. Unless previously redeemed in whole or in part or purchased and terminated, the Bonds will be redeemed at their Principal Amounts together with unpaid interest on 1 November 2025 (the “Maturity Date”) to the extent they have not previously been redeemed or purchased and cancelled.

6.2. Late Payment. If the Issuer for any reason fails to redeem the Bonds when due, interest at an interest rate of 4.00 % per annum shall continue to accrue on the outstanding Principal Amount from (and including) the due date to (but excluding) the date of actual redemption of the Bonds.

6.3. Repurchase. The Issuer may at any time purchase Bonds in the secondary market or otherwise and at any price. Bonds so acquired may be cancelled, held or resold.

7. Paying Agent

7.1. Baader Bank Aktiengesellschaft with its office in 85716 Unterschleissheim, Weißenstephaner Strasse 4, Germany shall be the paying agent with respect to the Bonds (the “Paying Agent”).

7.2. Status. The Paying Agent acts solely as agent of the Issuer and does not assume any obligations towards or relationship of contract, agency or trust for or with any of the Bondholders.

7.3. Variation or Termination of Appointment. The Issuer reserves the right at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of the Paying Agent and to appoint successor or additional paying agents. Notice of any change in the paying agents or in the specified office of the Paying Agent will promptly be given to the Bondholders pursuant to clause 14.

7.4. The Issuer will procure that there will at all times be a paying agent with respect to the Bonds. The Issuer will also procure that, as long as the Bonds are listed on a stock exchange, there will at all times be a paying agent with a specified office in such city as may be required by the rules of the relevant stock exchange and appoint a potential successor or a potential additional paying agent in accordance with such rules, such potential successor or potential additional paying agent being a credit institution within the European economic area.

8. Taxes

8.1. All amounts payable on the Bonds shall not be subject to any withholding or deduction of any present or future taxes, duties, charges or costs of any kind imposed, collected, retained or assessed by or in the Principality of Liechtenstein or any of its local bodies or authorities having the power to impose taxes (“Taxes”), unless such withholding or deduction is required by mandatory law. In such event, except as provided for in clause 8.2, the Issuer shall pay additional amounts (the “Additional Amounts”) such that the net amounts to be received by the Bondholders after withholding or deduction of the Taxes are equal to the amounts which they would have received without withholding or deduction.

8.2. No obligation to pay Additional Amounts. The obligation to pay Additional Amounts in accordance with clause 8.1 shall not apply for such taxes, fees and duties which

a) are payable other than by withholding or deduction at source on payments of Principal or interest on the Bonds; or

b) are withheld or deducted because a Bondholder (or a third party on behalf of a Bondholder) (i) has a tax related connection with the Principality of Liechtenstein or had such a connection at the time of purchase of the Bonds other than the mere fact that he/she/it is a holder of Bonds or was a holder of Bonds at the time of purchase of the Bonds or (ii) receives a payment of Principal or interest on the Bonds from or involving an

Austrian paying agent or a securities custodian (as respectively being defined in sec 95 of the Austrian Income Tax Act 1988 as amended (Einkommenssteuergesetz) or any successor provision or any comparable provision in a Member State of the European Economic Area thereto); the Austrian capital gains tax or any tax replacing it therefore in any case does not constitute tax for which the Issuer is obligated to pay Additional Amounts, irrespective of whether levied on interest payments or capital gains; or

(d) are deducted or withheld after payment by the Issuer in connection with the transfer to the Bondholder (or a third party on behalf of the Bondholder); or

(f) are reimbursable or dischargeable at source pursuant to the laws of the Principality of Liechtenstein or of the Republic of Austria, an EU directive or EU regulation or an international treaty or informal treaty to which the Principality of Liechtenstein or the Republic of Austria and/or the European Union is/are a party; or

(g) are withheld or deducted due to a change of law, such change becoming effective later than 30 days (i) after the due date of the respective payment, or (ii) in case such payment is made later, after duly provision of all due amounts and a respective notice in accordance with clause 14 of the Terms and Conditions; or

(h) are withheld or deducted pursuant to an act which contains regulations that are comparable with, or similar to, the regulations of the Directive on taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments adopted by the Council of the European Union on 03/06/2003 (Council Directive 2003/48/EC) or are withheld or deducted pursuant to the Directive as regards mandatory automatic exchange of information in the field of taxation (Directive 2014/107/EU) or any other European Union taxation of interest income implementing the decisions of the ECOFIN assemblies, or by laws, regulations and administrative provisions adopted in the implementation of these directives;

(i) would not have to be withheld or deducted if the Bondholder (or a third party on behalf of the Bondholder) could have obtained tax exemption or a tax restitution or a tax refund in a reasonable way; or

(j) are withheld or deducted due to a combination of events provided for in (a) to (i).

9. Termination in a Tax Event

9.1. If (i) any amendment to, or change in, the laws (or any rules or regulations thereunder) of the Principality of Liechtenstein or any political subdivision or any taxing authority thereof or therein, or (ii) any amendment to, or change in, an official and binding interpretation of any such laws, rules or regulations by any legislative body, court, governmental agency or regulatory authority (including the enactment of any legislation and the publication of any judicial decision or regulatory determination), or (iii) any generally applicable official interpretation or pronouncement that provides for a position with respect to such laws or regulations that differs from the previous generally accepted position is enacted, promulgated, issued or becomes effective otherwise on or after the Issue Date of the Bonds (any event described herein under (i), (ii) or (iii) shall hereinafter be referred to as a “Tax Event”) and as a consequence taxes, fees or other charges are imposed on any payments to be made by the Issuer with respect to Principal or interest on these Bonds by way of withholding or deduction at the source and the Issuer is required to pay Additional Amounts (as defined in clause 8.1), the Issuer may, at its option, redeem all, but not some only, of the Bonds then outstanding at 100 per cent. of their Principal Amount together with any accrued and unpaid interest subject to a notice period of at least 30 days. Such early redemption shall be effected by means of a notice in accordance with clause 14 of the Terms and Conditions, whereby such early redemption shall take effect 30 days after notice of early redemption in accordance with clause 14 of the Terms and Conditions.

9.2. An early termination in accordance with 9.1 is not feasible (i) if made by the Issuer 90 days prior to the commencement date of a Tax Event as described in 9.1, or (ii) if at the time at which the termination is effected, the obligation to pay or to deduct or withhold Additional Amounts has ceased to be in force.

9.3. A notice with respect to a termination for Tax Event pursuant to clause 9.1 shall be published in accordance with clause 14 of these Terms and Conditions.

10. Termination of the Bonds

10.1. Neither the Issuer nor Bondholders are entitled to a termination save for a termination in an event of default and – with respect to the Issuer – in accordance with clause 9.

10.2. Bondholders shall be entitled to declare their then outstanding Bonds to be immediately due and repayable and to demand their immediate redemption at the Principal Amount together with accrued and unpaid interest up to the date of repayment by giving notice of default (Termination Notice) to the Issuer and the Paying Agent, if any of the following events occurs:

(b) the Issuer violates any other obligation arising out of or in connection with the Bonds or the Terms and Conditions and the breach persists for more than 30 days from receipt of a written request;

(c) insolvency proceedings are initiated against the Issuer and, if the motion has been made by a third party, such motion is not withdrawn within 60 days or rejected for any other reason than lack of assets which are necessary to cover the costs of the insolvency proceedings (or the equivalent in another jurisdiction);

(d) the Issuer enters into liquidation, ceases to carry out all or most of its business activities, or divests or otherwise disposes of substantial portions of its assets.

10.3. The Issuer is not entitled to a termination save for a termination in a Tax Event pursuant to clause 9 and a termination in the event of a default. The Issuer shall be entitled to terminate the Bonds vis-à-vis a Bondholder if such Bondholder defaults in making any payments on the respective due date which such Bondholder is obligated to pay to the Issuer pursuant to the Terms and Conditions.

10.4. The right of termination and to declare the Bonds due shall lapse if the event of default has been cured before the right is validly exercised or if the circumstance justifying the right of termination has ceased prior to exercise of the right of termination.

10.5. Termination Notice. Any termination notice by Bondholders in accordance with this clause 10 shall be made by means of a written notice in German or in English delivered by hand or registered mail to the Issuer and the Paying Agent, specifying a bank account to which payments are to be made under this clause 10, together with evidence by means of a certificate of such terminating Bondholder's depository bank that such Bondholder at the time of such written notice is the holder of the relevant Bonds. A terminating Bondholder shall be obligated to cite the reason for the termination. If a Bondholder terminates the Bonds, such termination shall be effective solely with respect to the Bonds which are being held by the respective terminating Bondholder at the time of termination; the Bonds of other Bondholders shall remain unaffected by such termination. At the sole discretion of the Issuer, the Issuer shall be entitled, but shall not be obligated, to accept notice of termination (outside an event default) from Bondholders prior to the Maturity Date and to redeem the respective Bonds plus accrued interest up to the date of repayment.

10.7. In case of a termination of the Bonds in accordance with clauses 9 and 10, the Issuer shall redeem the Bonds at the Principal Amount plus accrued and unpaid interests within 10 Business Days.

10.8. All Bonds in respect of which termination rights are exercised and which are redeemed will be cancelled and may not be reissued or resold.

In this case, the total Principal Amount of the Bond shall increase by the principal amount of the newly issued bonds and the newly issued bonds shall fall under the term “Bonds”. There is neither an obligation of the Issuer to issue these further series, nor a claim of the Bondholders to purchase Bonds from such series. The Issuer is free to issue further bonds or any other financial instruments.

If the Bonds are admitted to trading on any stock exchange, notices to the Bondholders will be valid if published through electronic means having general circulation within the European Union and in the jurisdiction of any stock exchange on which the Bonds may be listed from time to time, for so long as the Bonds are listed on the respective stock exchange and the rules of any such stock exchange so require. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date of the first publication or, when required to be published by more than one electronic means, on the date on which the notice has first been published by all required electronic means.

14.2. Notice via the Clearing System. Notices to Bondholders may (subject to applicable stock exchange rules and requirements), so long as a Global Note representing the Bonds is held on behalf of the Clearing System, be to the general meeting of

Sun Contracting AG, Balzers

As statutory auditor, we have reviewed the financial statements of Sun Contracting AG for the period from September 7, 2017 to December 31, 2017.

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Board of Directors. Our responsibility is to issue a report on the financial statements based on our review. We confirm that we meet the legal requirements concerning professional qualification and independence.

Our review was performed in accordance with the Standard on the Review of financial statements issued by the Liechtenstein Association of Auditors. This Standard requires that we plan and perform the review in such a way as to enable material misstatements in the financial statements to be detected, albeit with less assurance than in a statutory audit. A review consists primarily of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures in relation to the data used to prepare financial statements. We have performed a review and not an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the financial statements do not give a true and fair view of the company's net assets, financial position and results of operations in accordance with Liechtenstein law. Furthermore, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the financial statements as well as the proposed appropriation of available earnings do not comply with Liechtenstein law and the company's articles of incorporation.

In the course of our review, nothing has come to our attention that would give us reason not to recommend these financial statements for approval.
